*To account for variances in the calendar year, a 53rd week is added to the season every seven years.

Playing Weeks represent the overall number of weeks of performance logged by all productions during the season.

New Productions reflect productions that officially opened within that season.

¹ The 2019-20 season was cut short by the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic which led to a complete shutdown of Broadway in March 2020. The season tallies for the 2019-20 season reflect performances through the week ending March 8, 2020, the last full week of performances of that season. The 2021-22 season marked the return of Broadway. However, the start of the season was delayed by 10 weeks; re-openings were staggered; and there were numerous COVID-related cancellations of performances, including during the December/New Year's holidays. The 2022-23 season was the first full season since Broadway came back.

² The 2018-19 season was the highest grossing and best attended season in recorded history.
